Education controversy

🔢 Reading 🙃

- A Do you think video games can be educational? Why or why not?
- B Read the article. What do many parents feel about video games?

Are video games educational?

any parents have a bad feeling about video games. Some believe that if they allow their children to play video games, they won't do well in school. Others feel that too many video games, especially violent ones, make children feel angry and nervous. If their kids spend a lot of time playing games alone, some parents are afraid that they will feel lonely and have a hard time making friends.

But recent studies suggest a more positive side to video games, and that video games are helping students to learn, to make friends and to build important skills.

One of the biggest advantages of playing video games is that they give the brain a great workout. Every gamer knows that when you are playing video games, you have to think fast and make decisions quickly. In some really hard games, players have to learn how to form strategies, plan their actions and manage their time. Studies also show that many video games are helping students to improve math and reading skills.

Video games can also bring students together and help them make friends. In multiplayer games, players must work with their team to achieve a goal. Some games give players a chance to be leaders and increase their confidence.

Physically, scientists believe that video games may help to manage stress, improve eyesight and increase handeye coordination.

In many ways, video games are helping to make learning new skills more fun. Perhaps someday, video games will be a bigger part of a student's education.

C Read the article again. Complete the chart by listing three skills that video games can help students build in each area.

Cognitive (Thinking) Skills	Social skills	Physical skills
improve time management skills	learn to work with a team

D PAIR WORK What kind of video games do you think are educational? Do you think video games can be played in classrooms? Tell your partner.

Perspectives on time

🔢 Reading 🙃

- A Do you have a busy schedule? Or do you find time to relax?
- B Read the article. Do you identify more with the Germans or Italians?

PERSPECTIVE ON TIME

Time and Culture

Imagine you're going to a party this weekend at your friend's apartment. "Could you come at 7 p.m. and bring dessert?" she asked. What time do you think you'll actually arrive? Ten minutes early? Half an hour late? Right on time?

The answer probably depends on your cultural view of time. Different cultures and countries have very different ways of thinking about time. Even countries that are quite close to each other like Germany and Italy see time very differently.

Deadlines and Meeting Times

There is a saying in countries like Germany and the U.S., "Time is money." People think of wasting time as the same as wasting or losing money. If you miss a deadline or are late to a meeting, people might get mad. In other countries like Italy and Greece, people are less strict about deadlines and appointments. Meetings and conversations start and end when it feels right, not when the clock strikes 2 p.m.

Getting Things Done vs. Building Relationships

In many Western countries, people want to get as much done in as little time as possible. They get impatient if decisions are not made fast enough. In other countries, taking time to build relationships is more important than getting things done fast. That's why meetings often start with lots of small talk before getting down to business.

Pace of Life

In some countries, it almost seems that people are in a race to get through life as quickly and efficiently as possible. In other countries, life is more about enjoying time—sharing meals, taking walks and spending time with friends and family.

As you travel or make friends with people from other cultures, it can help to improve communication if you understand their perspectives on time.

C Read the article again. Write three differences between the way people view time in Germany and Italy.

People want to enjoy life.

- B Read the article. Write the captions under the correct pictures.

The Recycled-Tire House

The Found-Object House

The Greenhouse

One-of-a-Kind Homes

Shoichi wanted to live in an environmentally friendly home, and he always liked the greenhouses in his neighborhood in Tokyo, Japan. So he decided to create his own greenhouse-style home. Sunlight warms his new home, and a plastic cover around the house helps to keep the heat inside. There aren't any walls or rooms. The "rooms" are actually large boxes on wheels. He can move them anywhere he likes, even outside. He loves his home, but sometimes he would like to be able to move the whole house.

Ruth is an artist who lives in the Rocky Mountains in the U.S. state of Colorado. Over the years, she found and collected a lot of old objects for her art. When she decided she wanted to live in a more unusual home, she had a creative idea. She would use many of the old materials that she collected in the home's design. For example, she used old car parts in the front door and tire rubber as the roof. She also used the door of an old car as part of a wall, so she can still lower the window!

Wayne and Cate are a couple from the U.S. state of Montana. They wanted a new home that wasn't too expensive. Their solution was simple – they built their own home. They recycled and used 250 old tires as the base of the house and old glass for the windows. They even used 13,000 empty soda cans in the house. Their home also has large windows and lots of plants and flowers. Solar energy keeps the house warm, even on cold days.

C Read the article again. Answer the questions.

- 1 What warms the inside of Shoichi's home?
- What would Shoichi like to be able to do? ___
- 3 What creative idea did Ruth have?
- 4 Where are there car parts in Ruth's home?
- 5 Why did Wayne and Cate build their own home?

What an accomplishment!

Reading n

- A What do you think it would be like to walk across your country? Why?
- B Read the interview. Why did Mary and Etsuko often have to walk between 30 and 40 kilometers a day?

A Walk Across Japan

Mary King and Etsuko Shimabukuro completed a 7,974-kilometer walk across Japan. Mary takes our questions about their incredible accomplishment.

Why did you walk across Japan?

The mapmaker Ino Tadataka inspired me. He spent 17 years on and off walking through Japan. He drew the country's first real maps.

How long did it take?

A year and a half. We walked from the island of Hokkaido, in the north, down to Okinawa. In Hokkaido, we walked about 40 kilometers a day, and on the other islands, about 30. We often had no choice about the distance because we had to find a place to sleep.

Describe a typical day.

There really wasn't one, but we tried to start by 7:00 a.m. and walk for 10 to 12 hours. Sometimes we had breakfast on the road. We had to be careful in Hokkaido because the bears there could smell our food. We saw bears twice, which was terrifying!

Did you walk every day?

No. We needed to do our laundry, check our email, and rest. Also, I wanted to interview people for my blog.

What were some of the best parts?

There were many! We stayed in a haunted guesthouse, walked on fire at a festival, and visited many wonderful hot springs.

Any low points?

You know, overall, we really enjoyed ourselves, but there were a lot of aches and pains along the way. The traffic could be scary because there weren't always sidewalks for pedestrians.

Did you ever think about giving up?

No, we never wanted to stop. Actually, I was sad when it ended. I wanted to walk from Okinawa back to Tokyo, but Etsuko said we had to accept that we accomplished our goal. It was time to go home.

Would you do it over again?

Definitely. I'd love to retrace our steps when I'm 80. But I've also set myself the goal of walking across the U.K. or India someday.

Making your own music

Reading n

- A What are music streaming sites? What sites do you listen to?
- B Read the guide. Why do musicians have to market their music?

A Guide To Breaking Into The Music Business

In the past, successful music acts were supported by record labels that marketed and promoted their music. Although very few artists got high-priced recording contracts, it gave the artists a better chance to become well-known if they got "signed." Today, however, musicians all over the world are creating and recording their own music, and marketing it to fans without the help of record companies. Artists like Chance the Rapper, Glass Animals, and Anne-Marie have succeeded by making their music available to fans through streaming websites.

Here's how to take your self-made music directly to fans.

- Record. If you haven't recorded something yet, you'll need to produce at least one great-sounding song and a music video to go with it.
- 2. Upload. Create a website where fans can download your music and find out how to follow you. You should also upload your music to streaming sites like Bandcamp, where music lovers go to discover new artists and bands.
- Market. Go social. Try to gain followers on popular social media sites like Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and Snapchat, and promote your music there. Don't forget to include links to your website.
- 4. Track. When someone wants to view, buy or download your song, be sure to have them like your site, follow you on Twitter or get their email address first. Then you can send them news and information about new releases and performances.
- Connect. Use email, blogs, and social media to communicate with fans, giving them a personal connection to you, the artist.

Of course, now that anyone can take their music directly to fans, there is a lot more competition. Only a very few artists become rich and famous this way, but direct-to-fan marketing can help you find an audience that will appreciate your music.

C Read the guide again. Answer the questions.

- 1 In the past, how did artists become successful and well-known?
- Where can artists promote their music now?
- 3 Why should musicians get email addresses of fans?
